

Company Profile

ASG Stage Products Ltd has, for over 40 years, specialised in all aspects of performing arts equipment and stage engineering for education, leisure, television, theatre and entertainment. It offers full survey, design and installation services, also consultancy if required - anything from curtains & track in a school to a composite installation in a professional theatre.

ASG is probably one of the longest established companies within the industry, trading continuously and with the same management. To ensure continued quality and dedication to improvement it has received Quality Assurance accreditation since 1993.

Applications

The company caters for venues which include schools, academies, colleges, universities, theatres, sports halls, television studios, drama studios, dance studios, leisure centres, concert halls, village halls, aircraft hangars, conference centres, shopping centres, arts centres, churches, holiday camps, hotels, cinemas, industrial projects and theme parks.

Accreditations

ASG Stage Products is NICEIC approved and has had Quality Assurance accreditation to BS EN ISO 9001 since 1993. On site engineers accredited with CSCS, SSSTC, IPAF & PASMA.

Description

ASG designs, manufactures and installs individual composite schemes including all types of performance-related equipment. It has the technical expertise to undertake all types of projects and its services are offered with meticulous attention to detail, which is necessary in this demanding but interesting specialised industry. From enquiries and surveys, through proposals, design, manufacture and installation, ASG will be pleased to assist with all aspects of performance facilities.

Products

Include tracks, curtains, lighting grids, lighting and control equipment, sound systems, also rope sets, counterweights, safety curtains, winch sets, powered flying, projection screens, division and acoustic systems, portable and retractable staging, tumblers, tiering and seating. Contact ASG sales department for your consumables, loose equipment and spare parts.

Services

ASG will be pleased to arrange visits and site surveys, offer proposals and provide quotations, all without obligation or charge. When the project proceeds, detailed design work is then carried out, prior to approval, manufacture and installation. The company's experienced management team specialises in project managing schemes involving stage equipment, engineering, electrical and mechanical installations, lighting, sound, curtains, staging and more - in any venue from a small hall to a total turnkey package in a professional concert hall. The company's experience can be demonstrated by the contractual projects it has been involved with through some of the most prominent consultants, architects and building contractors throughout the UK and Ireland.
